Fences in our historic district

When the homes in our historic district were constructed, the front yards were open and landscaped with grass and flowers. Today, some homeowners want fences for privacy and security. Because we live in the Craftsman Village Historic District, if you want to build a fence you must receive a Certificate of Appropriateness from the Historic Preservation Officer. You can call the Preservation Officer at (562) 570-6864 for more information (see the back side of this issue's calendar for a sample application form). Here are some tips on making your fence historically appropriate so that you will not have any problems.

The most important consideration is that the fence must match your house in terms of materials and design. If your house is wood, the fence should be wood. For instance, for the bungalow style homes that are most common in our district, the city recommends wooden fences that match the materials and design of these houses. New iron or cinderblock fences are not allowed. Also, city zoning regulations require that front yard fences be no more than three feet high, and new chain link fences are no longer allowed anywhere in Long Beach. The photos below provide examples of acceptable fences for bungalow homes.

These rules do not limit our freedom. They give us a way to protect our historic district, which has some of the oldest homes in Southern California. There are many ways to create a fence that is strong, attractive, original, and still meets the regulations. If you have any questions, come to a monthly meeting of our group or contact the Historic Preservation Officer!

Los Cercos En Nuestro Distrito Histórico

Cuando las casas fueron construidas en nuestro distrito histórico, los patios de enfrente estaban abiertos y cubiertos de césped y flores. Hoy en día, algunos dueños de casa desean cercos para privacidad y seguridad. Por la razón que vivimos en el Distrito Histórico Craftsman Village, si usted desea construir un cerco, usted primero tiene que recibir un Certificado de Conformidad del Oficial de Conservación Histórica.

Usted puede llamar al Oficial de Conservación al (562) 570-6864 para mas información (mire el reverso del calendario de esta publicación para una hoja ejemplar de solicitud). Aquí hay algunas sugerencias para que su cerco resulte históricamente apropiado para que usted no se enfrente con ningún problema.

La consideración más importante es la de que su casa debe conformar con el cerco en términos de materiales y diseño. Si su casa es hecha de madera, el cerco deberá ser hecho de madera. Por ejemplo, para las casas estilo bungalow que son las más comunes en nuestro distrito, la ciudad recomienda cercos de madera que sean iguales a los materiales y diseño de estas casas. Cercos nuevos de hierro forjado o de bloque no son permitidos. También, las regulaciones de zona de la ciudad requieren que los cercos de los patios de enfrente no sean de mas de tres pies de altura, y los nuevos cercos de cadena no son permitidos en ningún lugar en Long Beach. Las fotografías de abajo son unos ejemplos de cercos aceptables para casas estilo bungalow.

Estas reglas no limitan nuestra libertad. Ellas nos dan una manera de proteger a nuestro distrito histórico, el cual tiene algunas de las casas más antiguas en el Sur de California. Hay muchas maneras de crear un cerco que sea fuerte, atractivo, y original, y que todavía cumpla con las regulaciones. Si usted tiene alguna pregunta, asista a una reunión mensual de nuestro grupo o contacte al Oficial de Conservación Histórica!
